

The Complete Organic and Allotment Gardening Course 2024

The next Organic and Allotment Gardening course starts in late January. It is a total of 50 hours tuition with Tim Foster and is held on Wednesday evenings and selected Saturday mornings.

The theory (Wednesdays) is in the Community Building at St Werburghs City Farm and practicals (Saturdays) mostly on a nearby allotment plot.

You don't need an allotment to do the course: the information is easily transferable.

You will learn how to look after fruit trees and bushes and how to grow a complete range of vegetables. There are lots of organic techniques including composting, soil care, green manures and pest and disease control.

The cost for the course is £260.
